

Frontend scales via CDN edge caching and ISR; backend scales horizontally per-service; search and data layers scale independently of compute.